This past week was filled with activities and excitement as we celebrated Catholic Schools Week. We were honored to welcome Mayor Theresa Kelly, who presented a Proclamation recognizing the vital role Catholic schools play in fostering spiritual growth, academic achievement, and service to the community. Catholic Schools Week is a time our students eagerly anticipate each year. Throughout the week, we celebrated our students, staff, and the wider community who make our school such a special place. And we prayed for special intentions and for all the people around us who complete our circle of community. We are fortunate to be able to learn, pray, and grow in the Christian environment at Bishop Hogan. As we end Catholic Schools Week, we want to extend a heartfelt 'thank you' to parents and volunteers for all you do for our school and for being the blessing you are to us!

Our trip to Washington, D.C. was amazing! We had good weather and we were able to do a little sight-seeing, as well as attend the March and hear the speakers, Vice-President J.D. Vance and Speaker of the House Mike Johnson. Being part of the March for Life last Friday was a powerful experience that allowed our students and chaperones to stand together in faith and peaceful advocacy for the sanctity of life. I am so glad that all of us were able to participate.

Many blessings to each of you!
